OUT OF THE FRAME

a performance of poems, richly illustrated with famous paintings for Friends of the Highgate Library, London (www.fohl.org.uk)

In the main hall, Brookfield Primary School - entrance on Croftdown Road, London NW5 1HB.

Tuesday 20th February 2024 - 7.15 for 7.30pm

Free admission, no need to book, just turn up.

Art from six centuries brought dramatically to life through the imagined voices of the artists and the figures in their pictures.

Hear the thoughts of a trio of disdainful goddesses, a couple of WWI veterans (one British, one German), a woman hurrying to meet her lover in 19th century Paris, the bewildered wife of a medieval Italian merchant, a modern couple falling out over a picture in a gallery, and more.

Praise from previous audiences

- "What a wonderful presentation. Thank you for enriching our lives" (Jennifer)
- "Fabulous!" (Mike)
- "A sophisticated artistic adventure" (Mary-Margaret)
- "So creative" (Sharon)
- "Still feeling transported. (Judie)
- "Out of the frame and into a fairyland of pictures and words. I loved this!" (Nicoline)
- "What an inventive, witty and entertaining way of discovering paintings through poetry" (Adam)

Author of three novels, The Male Gaze (Picador 2007), Besotted (Picador 2010) and The Book of Air (Clink Street 2017), Joe Treasure was shortlisted in 2021 for the Bridport Poetry Prize.
